18,500 Ton Stainless Steel Liquid Cargo Ship

This 18,500 ton cargo ship is designed for the transportation of liquid chemicals and oil. Its robust design ensures safe and efficient operations.

Overview

Professional Liquid Cargo Vessel

This 18,500 ton stainless steel vessel is engineered specifically for the safe and efficient transport of oil, chemicals, and complex liquid cargoes. Featuring a robust hull design and advanced cargo handling systems, it is built to operate reliably across various international maritime environments. The vessel adheres to stringent international shipping regulations, making it a dependable asset for high-standard logistics operations.

Technical Specifications

Deadweight Capacity

18500 tons
Capacity

Hull Material	Stainless Steel
Cargo Compatibility	Product Oil, Chemicals, Liquid Cargo

Compliance and Standards

Certification Status

International Regulations Compliant