

Corded Landline Telephone with Unique Design

This uniquely designed corded telephone features a silver, donut-shaped body with an integrated keypad. The handset is connected via a coiled cord, making it suitable for landline communication in residential or office environments.

Product Overview

Modern Corded Communication

This corded landline telephone features a distinctive, modern donut-shaped design that serves as a unique aesthetic piece for any office or residential setting. Combining unconventional styling with standard landline functionality, it provides a reliable communication solution. The integrated keypad and coiled handset cord ensure ease of use while maintaining a sleek, minimalist profile.

Design and Aesthetics

Design Style

Modern • Unconventional • Minimalist

Color/Finish

Silver

Technical Specifications

Connection Type

Corded

Keypad Location

Integrated into body

Suitable Environments

Residential, Office