

Electric Food Processor for Grinding and Pureeing

This electric food processor is designed for grinding and pureeing various food items. It features a feeding tube, grinding mechanism, and a chute for dispensing processed food, along with attachments such as plates and a container for collecting the output.

Product Overview

Professional Electric Food Processor

The BHJ818 is a versatile electric food processor engineered for efficient grinding and pureeing of various food items. It features a robust feeding tube with an integrated tray for ingredient management and a dedicated chute for seamless dispensing. This unit is an ideal solution for B2B buyers looking to streamline the preparation of sauces, purees, and ground ingredients in a professional kitchen environment.

Design & Construction

Key Components

- Feeding tube with ingredient tray
- Internal grinding mechanism
- Dispensing chute
- Output collection container

Model Number

BHJ818

Functional Capabilities

Ideal For

- Sauce preparation
- Puree creation
- Ground ingredient processing

Primary Functions

Grinding, Pureeing, Ingredient Preparation

Accessories

Included Attachments

- Processing plates
- Collection container