

Emergency and Indicator Light

This light functions as both an emergency light and an indicator light. It is suitable for use in a variety of safety and signaling applications.

Product Overview

Reliable Emergency and Indicator Lighting

This emergency and indicator light is designed for professional safety and signaling applications. Built to provide clear, reliable visual cues, it serves as an essential component for emergency systems or operational status monitoring. Its robust construction ensures consistent performance in critical environments where visibility and dependability are paramount.

Technical Details

Model Identifier	YC016
Category	Emergency and Indicator Light