

Handheld Electronic Stun Device

This is a handheld electronic device designed for self-defense. It features metal prongs at the top and a button for activation.

Product Overview

Professional Handheld Electronic Device

This handheld electronic instrument is engineered for durability and ease of use in professional security applications. Featuring a robust, ergonomic design with integrated electrode prongs, it is built for reliability in high-stakes environments. The compact form factor ensures it remains portable while maintaining effective operational capabilities.

Technical Specifications

Operation

Handheld • Manual Activation

Device Type	Handheld Electronic Stun Device
Body Material	High-impact plastic
Key Design Elements	Ergonomic Grip, Dual Electrode Prongs, Integrated Switch, Ventilation Grooves