

Pharmacy Refrigerated Display Case

This pharmacy refrigerated display case maintains optimal storage conditions for medications and vaccines. It features a transparent glass door, adjustable shelves, and a temperature control system.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Overview

Professional Pharmacy Refrigeration

The PR-230 is a specialized refrigerated display case engineered for the safe storage of temperature-sensitive medications and vaccines in pharmacy and healthcare environments. It features a precise digital temperature control system and forced-air cooling to ensure uniform distribution, protecting the integrity of stored pharmaceuticals. With its compact footprint, transparent glass door, and internal LED lighting, this unit combines high-performance cooling with excellent product visibility.

Cooling System

Refrigerant
Environmentally Friendly

Cooling Technology Forced-air cooling with internal fan

Defrosting Yes

Condenser External

Design & Features

Door Type Transparent glass door

Internal Lighting Bright LED

Mobility Yes

Interior Design Hygienic, Durable, Adjustable Shelves

Control & Monitoring

Temperature Control Digital display and adjustable control