

Portable Notebook Computer

This is a portable notebook computer with a built-in display, keyboard and optical drive. It is designed for mobile computing, offering a balance of performance and portability.

Product Overview

Portable Computing Solution

This portable notebook computer is designed for versatile mobile computing, balancing performance with portability. It features an integrated display, a full keyboard, and a trackpad for precise cursor control. With built-in expansion slots and various ports, it offers flexible connectivity for external devices in professional and personal settings.

Hardware Features

Input Devices	Keyboard, Trackpad
Optical Drive	Yes

Connectivity

Expansion Options

- Expansion slots
- External device ports