

Textile Manufacturing Facility

This is a large industrial facility designed for textile manufacturing. It features a high ceiling, steel beam support, and evenly spaced lighting, with multiple levels and various industrial machinery.

Overview

Industrial Manufacturing Capability

This large-scale industrial facility in Fujian is designed for high-capacity manufacturing and processing operations. The building features a robust steel-beam construction with high ceilings and integrated lighting systems to support continuous production. With a multi-level layout and professional infrastructure, it provides an ideal environment for textile production or similar industrial activities.

Infrastructure

Building Structure

- High-ceiling industrial design
- Steel beam support structure
- Integrated overhead lighting fixtures
- Reinforced white pillar supports
- Second-level platform for expanded floor space

Regional Location

Fujian

Operations

Facility Type

Manufacturing • Processing • Industrial

Operational Scale

2 Floors

Operational Levels