

Utility Three-Wheeled Motorcycle

This is a robust three-wheeled motorcycle designed for utility and transportation. It features a single-cylinder engine, a sturdy cargo bed with reinforced railings, and a comfortable rider seat with back support.

Overview

Utility Three-Wheeled Motorcycle

The FT150ZH-4A is a robust three-wheeled motorcycle engineered specifically for utility and transportation tasks. Featuring a durable single-cylinder engine and a reinforced cargo bed, this vehicle is built to handle heavy loads across various terrains with ease. Designed for both commercial and personal applications, it combines reliable performance with practical features like ergonomic seating and comprehensive lighting systems.

Technical Specifications

Engine Configuration	Single-cylinder
Vehicle Features	Cargo Bed, Reinforced Railings, Back Support Seat, Front Headlight, Turn Signals, Durable Suspension

Usage & Application

Primary Applications

- Commercial transportation
- Personal utility use
- Heavy load transport

Design & Aesthetics

Exterior Finish

Vibrant Red