

Wall-Mounted Intercom Handset with Coiled Cord

This wall-mounted intercom handset is used for communication in buildings. It features a coiled cord, control buttons, and indicator lights.

Product Overview

Reliable Communication Interface

This wall-mounted intercom handset is designed for seamless communication in both residential and commercial environments. Featuring a durable white plastic casing and a flexible coiled cord, it ensures long-lasting performance and ease of use. The unit is equipped with intuitive control buttons and indicator lights, facilitating essential functions such as door release and call initiation for efficient access control.

Design & Build

Mounting Style	Wall-mounted
Casing Material	White plastic
Connection	Coiled cord

Features & Functionality

Control Features

- Call initiation
- Door release

User Indicators

Indicator lights