

Air Load Moving System

Air load moving systems provide a friction-free method for moving heavy loads. These systems use air bearings to distribute the load over a large area, creating a thin film of air between the load and the floor for smooth movement.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

