

Aluminum to Copper Bimetallic Connector

Bimetallic connectors join aluminum conductors to copper conductors. They are manufactured from aluminum and copper, using friction welding to prevent electrochemical corrosion.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

