

Audio/Video Cable

This audio/video cable transmits audio and video signals between electronic devices. Its durable construction ensures reliable connectivity and long-lasting performance.

Product Overview

High-Performance Audio/Video Connectivity

This high-quality audio/video cable is engineered for the seamless transmission of signals between various electronic devices. Built with durable materials, it ensures long-lasting performance and reliable connectivity for professional and home setups alike. The shielded construction is specifically designed to minimize interference, providing optimal signal clarity for demanding AV applications.

Technical Features

Shielding

Shielded Construction • Interference Reduction

Signal Performance

Optimized for high signal clarity and minimal interference

Applications

Compatible Equipment

- DVD Players
- Televisions
- Gaming Consoles
- General AV Equipment

Physical Characteristics

Customization Options

Various Colors, Multiple Lengths

Build Quality

Constructed with durable materials for long-term use