

Automotive Blade Fuse

This automotive blade fuse protects electrical circuits from overcurrent damage. It is commonly used in vehicles to safeguard various electrical components.

Product Overview

Automotive Circuit Protection

This automotive blade fuse is engineered to safeguard vehicle electrical systems from overcurrent damage. Featuring a transparent green housing, it allows for quick and easy visual inspection of the internal fusible link. Designed with standard dual metal prongs, this component ensures reliable connectivity and simple installation within automotive fuse blocks.

Technical Specifications

Color Code

Green

Fuse Type

Automotive Blade Fuse

Body Material

Transparent Plastic

Terminal Design

Dual Metal Prongs

Visual Inspection

Yes