

Benchtop Grinding Machine

This benchtop grinding machine is a versatile tool for grinding and sharpening tasks. It delivers consistent performance for efficient material removal and shaping with adjustable tool rests for precise control.

Overview

MD-150BS Benchtop Grinding Machine

The MD-150BS is a robust and versatile benchtop grinding machine engineered for efficient material removal, shaping, and sharpening tasks. Designed with a powerful motor, it delivers consistent performance suitable for demanding applications in workshops and garages. The unit features adjustable tool rests for precise control and integrated safety components including spark guards and eye shields to ensure operator protection.

Performance & Features

Key Features

- Powerful motor for consistent performance
- Adjustable tool rests for precise grinding angles
- Integrated spark guards
- Protective eye shields
- Sturdy base for stability and vibration reduction

Applications

Workshops, Garages, DIY Projects, Material Removal, Sharpening