

Black Rubber Cable Grommets

These black rubber grommets are designed to provide a protective and insulating barrier when passing cables or wires through panels or enclosures. They offer strain relief and prevent abrasion, ensuring long-lasting performance and safety.

Product Overview

Protective Cable Management Solutions

These black rubber cable grommets are designed to provide a robust protective and insulating barrier when passing cables or wires through panels or enclosures. They effectively offer strain relief and prevent abrasion, ensuring long-lasting performance and safety for your wiring systems. Suitable for a wide range of applications, these grommets are durable, easy to install, and provide a secure, reliable seal in electronics, automotive, and industrial settings.

General Specifications

Material	Rubber
Color	Black
Common Applications	Electronics, Automotive, Industrial, Panel Enclosures

Key Features

Key Benefits

- Provides protective and insulating barrier
- Offers effective strain relief
- Prevents wire abrasion
- Easy to install
- Ensures secure and reliable sealing