

Compact Personal Space Heater with Oscillation

This compact personal space heater is designed for efficient, localized heating. It features a rotary oscillation function to evenly distribute warmth across a small area.

Product Overview

Compact Personal Heating Solution

The ZH-08 is a compact and portable personal heater engineered for efficient, localized warmth. Featuring a rotary oscillation function, it effectively distributes heat across your immediate surroundings. Its user-friendly design includes a single-knob control interface and an integrated power indicator light for reliable daily operation.

Key Features

Core Functionality

- Rotary oscillation for even heat distribution
- Compact portable design for desktop or tabletop use
- Safety-focused black protective grill
- Single-knob manual control interface
- Active status indicator light

Design & Build

Construction Details

Brushed metal-effect body, Black plastic safety grill, Compact footprint

Safety & Usage

Recommended Use

Personal Space • Office Desk • Indoor Localized Heating