

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets for Psoriasis Treatment

These tablets contain compound amino peptides. They are indicated for the treatment of psoriasis.

Product Overview

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets

Compound Amino Peptides Tablets are a pharmaceutical formulation specifically indicated for the clinical treatment of psoriasis. This medication is designed to address the symptoms associated with the condition, commonly referred to as cowhidecIt is an approved therapeutic solution for professional medical use.

Regulatory Information

State Drug Administration Approval

H21023391

Clinical Indications

Treatment Category

Dermatological • Prescription Medication

Primary Indication

Psoriasis, Cowhidec