

Compound Kushen Injection Granules

Compound Kushen Injection Granules are a traditional Chinese medicine formulation used for various therapeutic purposes. The granules are designed for easy dissolution and administration, ensuring efficient absorption and bioavailability of the active compounds.

Product Overview

Therapeutic Formulation

Compound Kushen Injection Granules are a specialized traditional formulation designed for therapeutic use. Featuring Kushen as a primary ingredient, the product is recognized for its anti-inflammatory and anti-tumor properties. These granules are engineered for rapid dissolution and optimal bioavailability, serving as an effective adjunct therapy alongside conventional treatment protocols.

Key Characteristics

Primary Active Ingredient	Kushen
Therapeutic Properties	Anti-inflammatory, Anti-tumor

Usage & Administration

Administration Benefits

- Easy dissolution
- Efficient absorption
- High bioavailability

Formulation Type	Granules
------------------	----------

Quality & Standards

Quality Standards

Strict Quality Control • Safety Assured • Efficacy Verified