

Computer Web Camera

This PC camera is designed for use with computers and other electronic devices. It is suited for video conferencing, streaming, or general image capture purposes.

Product Overview

Professional PC Web Camera

This high-quality computer web camera is engineered for reliable video conferencing, streaming, and general image capture. Featuring a durable housing and a versatile mounting system with elongated slots, it is designed for seamless integration with various electronic devices. Its central lens architecture ensures clear visual output, making it a dependable solution for professional communication and content creation.

Physical Specifications

Mounting Mechanism	Metal bar mount with elongated slots
Construction Material	Durable Metal, Hard Plastic

Usage

Primary Applications

- Video Conferencing
- Live Streaming
- General Image Capture

Device Compatibility

Computers • Electronic Devices