

Coradia Continental Electric Multiple Unit Train

The Coradia Continental is an electric multiple unit train. It is designed for regional transportation.

Overview

Coradia Continental Electric Multiple Unit Train

The Coradia Continental is a high-performance electric multiple unit train designed for efficient regional rail transport. Engineered for reliability and passenger comfort, it serves as a critical component in modern transit infrastructure. This unit combines advanced rail engineering with operational versatility to meet the demands of contemporary railway networks.

Technical Specifications

Train Type	Electric Multiple Unit (EMU)
Year of Origin	2008
Origin Location	Salzgitter, Germany
Unit Identifier	442 119-8