

Corded and Cordless Telephone System

This telephone system combines a cordless handset with a corded base unit. Ideal for home or office use, it provides clear communication and essential features such as caller ID, call waiting, and a built-in answering machine.

Product Overview

Professional Communication Solution

This versatile telephone system integrates a corded base unit with a portable cordless handset, ensuring consistent reliability for demanding environments. Designed for both home and office use, it combines traditional call stability with modern mobility. The system features essential business tools including caller ID, call waiting, and an integrated answering machine to manage communication efficiently.

System Configuration

Application

Home • Office

System Type

Corded Base Unit, Cordless Handset

Features

Key Features

- Caller ID
- Call Waiting
- Built-in Answering Machine
- Display Screen
- Standard Keypad