

Corded Desktop Telephone with Digital Display

This corded desktop telephone is equipped with a digital display and multiple function buttons. It is designed for reliable communication in office or home settings, offering standard telephone functionalities.

Product Overview

Reliable Communication Solution

This corded desktop telephone is designed to provide dependable communication for both office and home environments. Featuring a sleek dark blue finish with silver accents, it blends professional aesthetics with essential functionality. Users can easily manage calls using built-in features like redial, call holding, and speed dialing, all displayed clearly on the integrated digital screen.

Key Features

Core Functionalities

- Call holding
- Redial functionality
- Speed dialing
- Digital display

Design & Build

Usage Environment

Office • Home

Design Aesthetics

Dark blue finish, Silver accents, Desktop form factor