

Cylinder Locking Solid Steel Padlock

This solid steel padlock features a cylinder locking mechanism. It is designed for robust protection against unauthorized access and long-lasting performance.

Product Overview

Professional Grade Security

This solid steel padlock is engineered to provide robust protection against unauthorized access in demanding environments. Featuring a high-security cylinder locking mechanism, it offers reliable performance and resistance to tampering. Its durable construction is designed for long-lasting operation, making it an ideal choice for securing sensitive locations and equipment.

Technical Specifications

Treatment

HARDENED

Body Material

Solid Steel

Locking Mechanism

Cylinder

Suitable Applications

High Security, Industrial, Commercial, Asset Protection