

DVB-T Digital Terrestrial Receiver

This digital terrestrial receiver is designed to receive and decode over-the-air digital television broadcasts. The receiver supports both standard definition (SD) and high definition (HD) channels and is equipped with output ports such as HDMI or composite video.

Overview

DVT-5801 Digital Terrestrial Receiver

The DVT-5801 is a versatile DVB-T terrestrial receiver designed to deliver high-quality digital television broadcasts directly to your display. It supports both standard and high-definition decoding, ensuring compatibility with a wide range of content. Featuring a durable metal housing and a compact 200mm width, this unit is built for reliability and seamless integration into any home entertainment setup.

Technical Specifications

Supported Resolutions

- 480P
- 576P
- 720P
- 1080i

Model Number	DVT-5801
Video Decoding Standards	MPEG4 AVC, H.264, Standard Definition, High Definition
Housing Width	200 mm
Housing Material	Metal

Connectivity & Features

Connectivity Ports

- 2x SCART or RCA
- SDPIF Coaxial Output
- USB Port

Optional Features

USB PVR Ready • SD Card Reader

System Support	Yes
----------------	-----