

Electrical Component Enclosure

This electrical component enclosure is designed for housing and organizing electrical components. It is suitable for residential and commercial electrical distribution systems.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Overview

C6 Series Electrical Cabinet

The C6 series electrical cabinet features a diamond panel design that combines luxury aesthetics with high-strength construction. Engineered for both residential and commercial applications, it utilizes flame-retardant PC materials and cool-rolled steel to ensure safety and durability. The enclosure offers flexible installation options with adjustable DIN brackets and an integrated spirit level for precision.

Technical Specifications

Face Covering Colors

White • Grey Transparent • Yellow Transparent

Capacity Range

4-36 ways

Materials

Flame-retardant PC, ABS Frame, Cool-rolled steel, Zinc-plated DIN

Installation & Features

Installation Highlights

- Adjustable DIN bracket for convenient installation
- Integrated spirit level for accurate alignment
- Occlusion-style installation screws for elegant finish
- Terminal with flame-retardant shield for safe wiring

Base Construction

Cool-rolled steel plate with plastic casting or plastic base