

Fiber Handle Axe with Semi-Plastic Coated Head

This axe features a durable construction with a semi-plastic coated head and a robust fiber handle, providing a comfortable and secure grip. Ideal for various cutting and chopping tasks, it offers a balance of strength and ease of use.

Product Overview

Professional Cutting Utility

This fiber handle axe is engineered for versatility and durability in various chopping and cutting applications. It features a specialized semi-plastic coated head that provides protection and longevity, paired with a robust fiber handle for a comfortable, secure grip. Suitable for both professional construction tasks and residential wood preparation, this tool is designed to deliver consistent performance and reliability.

Technical Specifications

Handle Material	Fiberglass
Head Coating	Semi-Plastic Coated
Application Scope	Professional Use, Home Use, Chopping, Cutting