

Firefighting Truck Cab

The firefighting truck cab is designed for special vehicles such as fire trucks and off-road vehicles. It can accommodate a 10-12 cylinder V-type supercharged air-cooled engine or a 400-500hp water-cooled engine.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Overview

TJ2000 Fire-Fighting Truck Cab

The TJ2000 is a specialized, heavy-duty fire-fighting truck cab engineered for reliability in demanding emergency response environments. It features a reinforced structure designed for maximum crew safety and durability, while offering a spacious interior to accommodate multiple firefighters comfortably. With optimized visibility, ergonomic controls, and seamless chassis integration, this cab ensures efficient operation and effective coordination during critical deployments.

Design & Construction

Visibility Systems

- Large window design
- Integrated mirror systems

Build Quality

Heavy-duty, Reinforced Structure, Molded Plastic

Interior & Controls

Dashboard Components

- Comprehensive control panel
- Digital display unit
- Numeric keypad
- Air conditioning vents
- Radio receiver
- Integrated cup holders

Operational Features

Operational Highlights

Ergonomic Seating • Chassis Integration Ready • Equipment Mounting Points • Advanced Communication Interface