

General Purpose Steel Nails

These metal nails are designed for general construction and woodworking. The steel nails have a smooth shank and flat head, suitable for fastening wood and other materials.

Product Overview

General Purpose Steel Nails

These high-quality steel nails are engineered for versatility in general construction and woodworking projects. Featuring a classic smooth shank design, they provide reliable fastening capabilities for a wide range of materials. Their robust construction ensures durability and secure attachment, making them an essential component for professional building and carpentry applications.

Technical Specifications

Material	Steel
Shank Type	Smooth
Head Style	Flat Head
Tip Type	Pointed

Applications

Intended Use	General Construction, Woodworking, Fastening
--------------	--