

Hand-Operated Stainless Steel Biscuit Press

This hand-operated biscuit press is constructed from stainless steel and durable plastic components. It features a lever-action mechanism and includes interchangeable dies for creating different biscuit shapes.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Professional Home Baking Solution

This hand-operated biscuit making machine is a practical and convenient utensil designed for efficient cookie production. Constructed primarily from durable stainless steel, it offers reliable performance for creating consistent biscuit shapes with ease. The device features a lever-action mechanism that provides excellent control over dough extrusion, making it an ideal tool for baking enthusiasts.

Technical Specifications

Included Accessories

- 8 Biscuit shaping dies
- 8 Stainless steel nozzles for cream

Primary Materials

Stainless Steel, Durable Plastic, Aluminum

Operation

Manual / Hand-Operated

Key Features

Product Capabilities

8 forms
Biscuit Shapes

8 pcs
Cream Nozzles

Maintenance

Easy to disassemble • Simple to clean