

Household Space Heating Apparatus

This space heating apparatus is designed for household use. It features a rectangular shape with a curved top and a mesh front panel.

Overview

Efficient Household Heating

This household space heating apparatus is designed for reliable and supplemental warmth in residential settings. Featuring a sleek, rectangular design with a protective mesh front panel, it ensures safe and effective heat distribution. The unit is supported by sturdy legs for stability and includes an intuitive control panel on the top for easy operation.

Design & Build

Form Factor	Rectangular with curved top
Safety Features	Mesh front panel, Stable leg support
Control Location	Top-mounted panel