

Household Water Purifier with Digital Display

This water purifier is designed for household use, providing clean and purified water on demand. It features a digital display showing water temperature and volume.

Product Overview

Advanced Household Water Purification

This household water purifier is engineered to deliver clean, purified water on demand, making it an essential appliance for modern kitchens. The system features an integrated digital display that provides real-time information on water temperature and volume. Its sleek design ensures both aesthetic appeal and practical performance, complete with a convenient dispensing spout and a drip tray for a mess-free experience.

Recommended Use

Household kitchen

Technical Features

Integrated Metrics

85 °C

Temperature

206 ml

Volume

Purification Technology

RO