

Industrial Button Sewing Machine for Garments and Shoes

This industrial button sewing machine is engineered for high-volume production of garments, shoes, and accessories. It features a precise button feeding mechanism and adjustable stitch settings for efficient and consistent button attachment on various fabric types.

Overview

Industrial Button Sewing Machine

This industrial button sewing machine is engineered for high-volume manufacturing environments, specializing in the production of garments, shoes, and various accessories. It features a precise button feeding mechanism and adjustable stitch settings to ensure consistent, efficient, and reliable button attachment across diverse fabric types and button sizes. Its durable construction is built to withstand the demands of continuous, professional-grade operations.

Technical Specifications

Key Performance Features

- Precise button feeding mechanism
- Adjustable stitch settings
- Durable industrial construction
- Versatile button size compatibility

Model Number	BS-781
Suitable Applications	Garment Manufacturing, Shoe Production, Accessories