

Industrial Chemical Processing System

This industrial chemical processing system is designed for various chemical applications. It features a network of pipes, tanks, and control systems on a platform with safety railings.

