

Industrial Pump Component

This is a compact and robust industrial component. It is engineered for reliable performance in demanding industrial environments.

Product Overview

Robust Industrial Component

This compact and robust industrial component is specifically engineered for seamless integration into pump and vacuum systems. Featuring a durable white housing, it is built to withstand the rigors of demanding industrial environments. With multiple ports and connectors, it offers the versatility required for reliable performance in complex equipment setups.

Electrical Specifications

Key Electrical Metrics

10 A

Rated Current

600 V AC

Voltage Rating

Physical Characteristics

Design Features

Compact Design, Robust Construction, Multi-port Connectivity, Durable Housing