

Light Duty Drill Press

This light duty drill press is designed for precision drilling tasks. It features a durable construction, adjustable table, and depth stop for consistent and accurate results across various materials.

Product Overview

Versatile Precision Drilling

The ZQ Series Light Type Drill Press is a reliable machine engineered for precision drilling tasks across various environments. Its sturdy construction ensures long-term stability, while the powerful motor delivers consistent torque for multiple material types. Designed for both professional workshops and educational use, this drill press combines ergonomic controls with adjustable positioning features to maximize operational efficiency.

Technical Features

Key Operational Features

- Adjustable table for flexible workpiece positioning
- Integrated depth stop for consistent drilling
- Ergonomic design for operator comfort
- Sturdy base construction for stability

Application Scope

Machine Processing, Repairing, DIY Projects, Daily Use

Manufacturing Origin

Production Details

Made in China