

Medical Disposable Protective Suit

This medical disposable protective suit provides a barrier against fluids and particles. It is suitable for use in hospitals, laboratories, and other healthcare settings.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Medical Disposable Protective Suit

This medical-grade protective suit is designed for reliable isolation in clinical, ward, and laboratory environments. Constructed from high-resistance non-woven fabric with a breathable PE film, it provides an effective barrier against fluids and particulate matter. The suit features a secure, full-body design including a hood and elasticated cuffs, making it suitable for healthcare professionals and community workers requiring consistent protection.

Material & Construction

Material Composition

- PP high-resistance non-woven fabric
- Breathable PE film
- 2-3 grams of rubber
- Integrated rubber strips

Design Features

Hooded design, Elastic cuffs, Front zipper closure, Full-body coverage, Breathable

Compliance & Certification

Certifications

CE Certified • FDA Registered

Regulatory Standards

GB19082-2009 Technical Requirements for Medical Disposable Protective Clothing

Application

Recommended Usage

- Medical institution clinics
- Hospital wards
- Laboratories
- Community disinfection tasks
- Temperature screening stations