

Metal Cold Chisel

This cold chisel is made of hardened steel and designed for cutting metals without heat. It removes material when struck with a hammer or mallet.

ADDITIONAL IMAGES

Product Overview

Professional Grade Cold Chisel

This hardened steel cold chisel is an essential tool designed for cutting, shaping, and removing metal parts without the need for heat. Engineered for durability, it is ideal for demanding tasks in automotive, construction, and manufacturing environments. Its robust construction ensures reliable performance when struck with a hammer or mallet for precision metalworking.

Material Specifications

Available Materials	C45, 60CRV, 40CR
---------------------	------------------

Product Details

Common Applications

- Metal cutting
- Removing rivets
- Cutting bolts
- Shaping metal surfaces

Tool Type	Cold Chisel
Size Availability	Please consult customer service for available sizes