

Motorcycle Engine Side Cover

This is a motorcycle engine side cover, likely made of aluminum. It features multiple mounting points, threaded ports, and internal ribbing for structural support.

Product Overview

Engine Side Cover Component

This motorcycle engine side cover is engineered for durability and structural integrity. Featuring a robust aluminum construction with internal ribbing, it provides essential protection for engine components. The unit includes multiple mounting points and threaded ports to ensure a precise fit and secure installation.

Technical Details

Key Features

- Internal ribbing for structural support
- Multiple mounting points
- Threaded ports
- Perimeter gasket surface

Material	Aluminum
Casting Markings	A28 F, CEL, 3

Condition

Part Status

Used/Refurbished