

Moving Head Light Flight Case

This robust flight case is designed for transporting and protecting moving head lights. It is constructed with durable materials, reinforced edges, and custom foam inserts to securely hold the light fixture.

Product Overview

Professional Protection for Moving Head Lights

This robust flight case is engineered specifically for the secure transport and protection of moving head light fixtures. Featuring durable construction with reinforced edges and custom foam inserts, it ensures your equipment remains safe during transit. Designed for lighting technicians and event production companies, the case includes heavy-duty latches, corner protectors, and integrated wheels for seamless mobility.

Key Features

Design Features

- Custom foam interior inserts
- Heavy-duty locking latches
- Reinforced corner protectors
- Integrated transport wheels

Ideal Applications

Professional Lighting, Event Production, Equipment Transport, Stage Setup

Compatibility

Moving head light fixtures