

Portable Gasoline Welder Generator

This is a portable gasoline-powered welder and generator. It is designed for welding and power generation applications and features durable construction.

Overview

Versatile Power and Welding Solution

The AG-1500DC is a compact and portable gasoline-powered unit designed to handle both welding tasks and electrical power generation. Engineered for versatility, it serves as a reliable tool for on-site projects where independent power and welding capabilities are essential. Its robust design ensures durability in demanding work environments.
