

Radiant Space Heater with Protective Mesh

This space heating apparatus is designed for household use. It features a protective metal mesh surrounding the heating elements for safety during operation.

Product Overview

Efficient Radiant Heating Solution

The Radiant Space Heater is a versatile heating apparatus designed for supplemental indoor warmth. Featuring a robust protective metal mesh, this unit prioritizes user safety while delivering consistent radiant heat through its glowing heating elements. Its modern, rounded aesthetic and compact design make it suitable for various living or workspace environments.

Technical Specifications

Power Source	Electric
Recommended Use	Indoor Use, Residential

Design & Features

Safety Features

- Protective metal mesh housing
- Radiant heating elements
- Bottom ventilation slots

Mounting Options

Wall Mountable • Freestanding