

Rawhide Leather Sheet

This is a sheet of rawhide leather, a large, irregularly shaped piece of tanned animal skin. The rawhide is pliable with uneven, untrimmed edges, making it suitable for various applications.

Product Overview

Natural Rawhide Leather Sheet

This high-quality rawhide leather sheet offers a versatile material suitable for a wide range of professional and artisanal applications. Featuring a natural, light yellowish-tan coloration with authentic texture variations, each piece retains its organic character with natural wrinkles and folds. Its pliable nature and untrimmed edges make it an excellent choice for custom crafting, industrial repairs, and traditional leatherworking projects.

Physical Characteristics

Edge Finish

Untrimmed • Natural Cut

Material Type

Rawhide Leather

Color & Finish

Light yellowish-tan with natural tone variations

Applications

Common Applications

- Leather crafting
- Equipment repairs
- Traditional leatherworking
- Custom fabrication