

Residential Smoke Detector with LED Indicator

This smoke detector is designed for residential or commercial use. It features a white plastic housing, a test button for functional verification, and an LED indicator for status monitoring.

Product Overview

Reliable Fire Detection

This residential smoke detector is designed for both residential and commercial applications to ensure occupant safety. Encased in a durable white plastic housing, it provides reliable smoke detection and triggers an audible warning during potential fire hazards. The inclusion of an intuitive test button and a clear status LED indicator simplifies routine functional verification and monitoring.

Technical Specifications

Maintenance Features

- Manual test button for functional verification
- Status monitoring LED
- Easy installation design

Material	White plastic
Status Indicators	Audible Alarm, LED Indicator

Certifications

Quality Compliance

Hubei Superior Product