

Row Crop Harvesting Machine

This specialized agricultural machine is designed for harvesting crops. It features a tractor base with a custom-built harvesting attachment at the front, including a conveyor system that transports material to a processing unit that separates the desired crop from unwanted debris.

