

Satellite TV Receiver DVB-S MPEG-2 Compatible

This digital video broadcasting receiver is compatible with DVB-S/MPEG-2 formats. It is designed for home entertainment, providing access to free-to-air satellite channels with standard definition output and electronic program guide support.

Overview

Satellite TV Receiver Overview

The DVS-3201 is a reliable standard definition satellite receiver designed for free-to-air (FTA) broadcasting. It features MPEG-2 decoding capabilities, ensuring compatibility with standard satellite signals for home entertainment. With a compact 180mm design and essential connectivity options, it provides a straightforward solution for accessing a wide range of satellite channels.

Technical Specifications

Receiver Type

FTA (Free-to-air) • Standard Definition

Signal Standard

DVB-S

Decoding Format

MPEG-2

Physical Attributes

Housing Width

180 mm

Housing Material

Plastic

Connectivity

Output Interfaces

- 1 SCART or RCA output
- SDPIF coaxial output

System Features

Software Support

Yes

Software Upgrade

Supported