

Self-Contained Window Air Conditioner

This self-contained cooling unit is designed for installation in a window or through a wall. It features adjustable louvers for directing airflow and multiple fan speeds for customized comfort.

Product Overview

Professional Cooling Solution

This self-contained window air conditioner is engineered for efficient climate control in small to medium-sized commercial or residential spaces. The unit offers a versatile cooling solution that can be installed directly into a window or through a wall. Featuring precise thermostat control, adjustable airflow louvers, and multiple fan speeds, it provides a reliable and customizable environment for any workspace.

Performance

Operational Modes

- Cool
- Fan Only

Fan Speed Settings

Low, Medium, High

Maintenance & Convenience

User Features

Thermostat Control • Adjustable Louvers • Compact Design • Simple Installation

Maintenance

Washable filter