

Stainless Steel Watering Can with Long Spout

This watering can is made from polished stainless steel. It features a long, slender spout for precise watering and a circular handle for comfortable carrying.

Product Overview

Design & Utility

This stainless steel watering can combines a sleek, modern aesthetic with highly functional design elements. The long, slender spout allows for precise water delivery, making it ideal for delicate plants and hard-to-reach areas. Crafted from durable polished stainless steel, this piece is well-suited for both indoor and outdoor environments, offering a sophisticated look alongside reliable performance.

Material & Construction

Primary Material	Polished Stainless Steel
------------------	--------------------------

Design Features

Spout Style	Long, slender spout for precision
Handle Design	Circular handle for comfort

Usage

Suitable Environments	Indoor, Outdoor
Primary Use Case	Delicate plants and hard-to-reach areas