

Steel Security Entry Door

This security steel entry door is designed for residential or commercial use. It features a solid steel construction with a wood-grain finish and a multi-point locking system for enhanced security.

Product Overview

Robust Security Entry Solution

This high-security steel entry door is engineered for both residential and commercial applications, combining superior protection with aesthetic versatility. Featuring a solid steel core and a sophisticated wood-grain finish, it provides a durable barrier against forced entry while maintaining a professional appearance. The design incorporates advanced security features, including a multi-point locking mechanism and integrated peephole, ensuring peace of mind for property owners.

Construction & Design

Material	Solid Steel
Surface Finish	Wood-grain
Design Elements	Vertical bar design, Decorative square accents

Security Features

Security Hardware

- Integrated peephole
- Modern handle set

Locking System	Multi-point locking system
----------------	----------------------------

Performance & Installation

Key Performance Metrics

1 High Forced Entry Resistance	1 Noise/Temp Insulation Capability
Installation	Includes durable frame for simplified installation