

Submersible Utility Pump

This submersible utility pump is designed for various applications. It features a durable construction with a stepped hose adapter for versatile connection options and is suitable for draining, transferring, and removing water in residential and industrial settings.

Overview

Professional Utility Pumping Solution

This submersible utility pump is engineered for high-performance water management in both residential and industrial environments. Featuring a rugged, durable housing design, it provides reliable operation for draining and transferring water. The unit includes a versatile stepped hose adapter, ensuring easy and quick connections for a variety of tasks.

Technical Features

Build Characteristics

- Submersible design
- Durable construction
- Blue upper housing
- Black protective base
- Stepped hose adapter included

Operational Environment

Residential • Industrial

Suitable Applications

Water Draining, Water Transfer, Water Removal